Page 1: Login Problems

If a customer cannot log in, first confirm that the registered email address is correct.

Ask the customer to reset the password and retry after clearing browser cache or using a private browsing window.

If the account remains inaccessible, escalate with the account email, timestamp, and error message.

Page 2: Payment and Checkout Errors

For a failed payment, ask the customer to verify card details and retry once.

Do not request or record the customer's full card number, CVV, or password.

If money was debited but the order was not created, collect the transaction reference and escalate to the payment support queue.
